Dear Parents,

I'm writing to let you know about an exciting new series we will be starting. We all tend to be a little uncomfortable at the idea of introducing our children to some of the darker aspects of society: sexual sin, pornography, human trafficking, abuse, etc. However there comes a time when we have to put aside that awkwardness and choose to equip our children with the information they need to avoid the traps the world has made it so easy to fall into.

Rewire is a 4 part series designed to educate our teens about these difficult topics, within a biblical context. Videos and small group discussion questions are specially created to give kids an awareness of pitfalls that can cost them and their friends their innocence, power to control their own life's outcome, and in some cases even their lives.

I invite you to visit Rewire's website at rewiremylife.org to learn more about this series. As parents, it's our job to protect our children. Discussing these topics may not always feel like we are protecting them. I promise you, the world is teaching them with or without your permission and in a way that is contrary to God's word. We must be the ones to put accurate information in their hands and minds to combat negative influences. As always, I'm here to discuss any concerns you may have.
